What is Carrier Pre Select

The use of carrier pre selection network access technology removes the need to install hardware, such as auto diallers at customer's premises or to programme carrier selection codes into your PBX system. With pre selection, traffic originating from your site will be routed directly onto our network with no need for prefix codes. The 'selection' of UK-Telco as your preferred provider is done automatically at the point of entry (the local BT exchange) to the public voice network.

Why CPS?

Carrier Pre Selection is easy to implement and quick to install. Within a couple of weeks you can benefit from both the service & value.

Keep your current telephone numbers, ideal for multi-site implementation. Implementation is handled remotely enabling business customers with multiple sites to switch to another supplier, without needing to deploy resources to manage the implement of the service.

No traffic leakage. You no longer have to rely on auto diallers or PBX programming, which are not 100% reliable. All your calls will automatically route to the service ensuring that your business maximises cost effectiveness through our highly competitive tariffs.

Network quality UK-Telco (GB) Ltd will always connect your business through a tier one carrier.

Why L2MC CPS

Resellers have been offering cheaper call rates since the privatisation of BT and the market deregulation. Achieving cheaper calls over alternative carriers is primarily sold on cost as a commodity sale. L2MC however, has not only secured the best rates currently available, but you are not compromising on quality. All of our calls route over BT lines, as opposed to some alternative networks offering lesser call quality.
